I'm a developer who specializes in building modern web applications using React JS, Angular, Node JS, Vue JS, and Laravel. With 6 years of experience in web development, I have a proven track record of delivering high-quality solutions that meet the needs of businesses of all sizes. My expertise lies in front-end development using modern frameworks like React JS, Angular, and Vue JS. I'm also proficient in back-end development using Node JS and Laravel. Additionally, I have experience working with databases like MySQL, MongoDB, and PostgreSQL, and I'm familiar with DevOps technologies like AWS and Git.
